HONORARY DEGREES TO BE CONFERRED

THELMA CORNELIA DAVIDSON ADAIR — Doctor of Humane Letters

Thelma Cornelia Davidson Adair is past national president of Church Women United in the U.S.A., an ecumenical women's movement uniting Protestant, Catholic, Orthodox, and other Christian women through 1,900 organizations across the country. A former moderator of the United Presbyterian Church's General Assembly, Dr. Adair also served her church nationally as associate executive secretary in the Office of the Coordinator of Educational Strategy, where she was responsible for the Board of National Missions; in addition, she was vice president of the Board of Christian Education, chair of the Special Committee on the Needs and Rights of Children, and a participant in numerous church and educational conferences worldwide.

Dr. Adair recently retired as professor of education at the City University of New York's Queens College. She has served as adjunct professor at Teachers College, Columbia University; Princeton Theological Seminary; Colgate-Rochester Seminary; and the New York University School of Religion. In addition, she was distinguished professor of religious education at Union Theological Seminary. The recipient of numerous honors and awards, Dr. Adair is also the author of several books and articles.

Dr. Adair attended Barber-Scotia College, received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Bennett College, and earned the Master of Arts and Doctor of Education degrees from Teachers College of Columbia University.

ROBERT SANFORD BRUSTEIN — Doctor of Arts

Robert Sanford Brustein, Commencement speaker for the Class of 1997, is the founding director of the Yale Repertory and American Repertory theatres. He has supervised 210 productions, directing 12 of these, including his own adaptations of Ghost, The Changeling, The Father, and a trilogy of Pirandello works—Six Characters in Search of an Author, Right You Are (If You Think You Are), and Tonight We Improvise. His most recent theatrical work involves the klezmer musical adaptation of Schlemiel the First by Isaac Bashevis Singer and his own play Demons.

Mr. Brustein is the author of ten books on theatre and society, including Who Needs Theatre, a collection of reviews and essays for which he received his second George Jean Nathan Award for dramatic criticism. He also wrote Making Scenes, a memoir of his years at Yale University as dean of the School of Drama, and Dumbocracy in America, his latest work.

Some of Mr. Brustein's other professional activities include director of the Loeb Drama Center and professor of English at Harvard University, and drama critic for the New Republic. He is a recipient of the Tiffany Award from the International Society of Arts Administrators for excellence in the performing arts, the George Polk Award in journalism, the Elliot Norton Award for professional excellence in Boston theatre, and the New England Theatre Conference's 1985 major annual award for "outstanding creative achievement in American theatre." In 1995 Mr. Brustein received the American Academy of Arts and Letters Award for contributions to the arts.

WENDY REID CRISP — Doctor of Letters

Through her speaking and publishing activities, Wendy Reid Crisp has become a well-known advocate for professional women. She now serves as director of the National Association for Female Executives and previously served on the National Women's Business Council, a presidential advisory commission.

Ms. Crisp's career has included such positions as editor in chief of two magazines, Savvy from 1981 to 1986 and Small Press from 1990 to 1993; founder and publisher of New Chapter Press, where she worked from 1986 to 1993; editor at Henry Holt & Company, where she developed a series of books on business topics for women professionals; and principal and president of an advertising and public relations firm. Often quoted and interviewed by both print and broadcast journalists, Ms. Crisp continues to write books, as well as contributing regular columns to Executive Female magazine. Her most recent book is titled Do As I Say, Not As I Did: Perfect Advice from an Imperfect Mother, published by G.P. Putnam Sons, and her 100 Things I'm Not Going to Do Now That I'm over 50 found a large audience when it was published in 1995. Ms. Crisp is a graduate of Whitman College.

JANE NUCKOLS GARRETT — Doctor of Letters

Jane Nuckols Garrett is a senior editor at Alfred A. Knopf, Inc., where she has held various positions since 1967, beginning as the founder's special assistant. The projects she has worked on have won many awards, including seven Pulitzer prizes, two National Book Critics awards, and a National Book Award. Also a published writer, Ms. Garrett's own work includes several books and numerous articles in the fields of history and religion.

The Episcopal Church also has benefited from Ms. Garrett's efforts. She worked locally as an assistant at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Middlebury, served the state as nonparochial supply clergy for the Diocese of Vermont, and has been active nationally for the Episcopal Peace and Justice Network, the Pastoral Teaching Committee, and the Committee for Dialogue on Human Sexuality.

A graduate of the University of Delaware, where she earned honors in history, Ms. Garrett continued her studies at the Hartford Seminary, State of Vermont's Diocesan Studies Program, and Medical Center Hospital of Vermont.

ROBERT J. KEESHAN — Doctor of Letters

When he first opened the doors to the Treasure House at CBS Television in 1955, Robert J. Keeshan began a thirty-year role as Captain Kangaroo. Thus, he can claim the distinction of hosting the longest running network children's program in television history. A year and a half after the show ended on CBS, Mr. Keeshan took the program to public television, where it appeared for six seasons.

"Captain Kangaroo" won six Emmy awards, three Gabriels, and two Peabody awards. In 1986 the program won the Ohio State Golden Anniversary Director's Award. Mr. Keeshan was named Broadcaster of the Year in 1979 by the International Radio and Television Society, and in 1982 he received the National Education Award for Advancement of Learning through Television from the National Education Association.

Mr. Keeshan began his television career, while still in high school, as a page at NBC during World War II. After service in the U.S. Marine Corps, he returned to NBC and in 1948 created the character Clarabell the Clown on the "Howdy Doody" show, a role he played for five years. A consistent advocate for children, Mr. Keeshan has campaigned vigorously against child abuse and has also worked to promote education and health care.

CURT C. SILBERMAN — Doctor of Humane Letters

Curt C. Silberman was educated in the schools of his native Würzburg, Germany, and went on to study law at the universities of Würzburg, Munich, and Berlin. In 1938 he was imprisoned by the Würzburg Gestapo and later released. Shortly thereafter, Dr. Silberman and his wife, Else, emigrated to the United States.

Dr. Silberman has worked on behalf of the American Federation of Jews in Central Europe, Research Foundation for Jewish Immigration, Leo Baeck Institute, and Jewish Philanthropic Fund. He was president of the Jewish Family Service Association of Essex County (New Jersey), and he served on the advisory board for the compilation of The International Biographical Dictionary of Central European Emigrés 1933-1945.

Dr. Silberman maintains a private international law practice in Florham Park, New Jersey. He has lectured widely on international law and was the principal guest lecturer on the subject at the University of Würzburg on the occasion of that university's 400th anniversary in 1982.

In 1994, Dr. Silberman and his wife created a fund that will ultimately establish the Curt C. and Else Silberman Chair in Jewish Studies at Middlebury College. The Silbermans seek to promote understanding of Jewish history, culture, and philosophy; the causes and prejudices that led to the Holocaust; the Diaspora; and modern events in the Middle East.

BARBARA W. SNELLING — Doctor of Laws

Barbara W. Snelling, Vermont state senator from Chittenden County, recently completed two terms as lieutenant governor of the State of Vermont, an office to which she was first elected in 1993. Prior to assuming her responsibilities in state government, Ms. Snelling was vice president for external affairs at the University of Vermont. From 1982 to 1995 she served as president of the firm Snelling and Kolb, Inc.

Ms. Snelling is chair of the Board of Directors of the Chittenden Trust Company and Chittenden Corporation; she is also a member of the board of the Vermont Community Foundation and the Vermont Educational Partnerships Project of the Vermont Chamber of Commerce. Long a consultant and volunteer for nonprofit organizations, she has served as a member of the Board of Trustees of Radcliffe College; member of the Board of Directors of the Harvard Alumni Association; and member of the Board of Directors of the Chittenden County United Way, for which she chaired several key committees. She is also founding chair of the Friends of the Vermont State House and a member of the Board of Trustees of Shelburne Museum.

A magna cum laude graduate of Radcliffe College, where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Ms. Snelling is the widow of five-time governor of Vermont Richard A. Snelling.

WILLIAM H. VON DREELE — Doctor of Letters

William H. von Dreele, business executive, author, and editor, is a member of Middlebury's Class of 1949. He worked at IBM Corporation as a writer for a quarter of a century, retiring in 1979; was a contributing editor to National Review; publishes articles regularly in the Litchfield County Times and the New York Observer; and has written two books on conservative politics. In an unusual writing assignment in 1991, Mr. von Dreele was commissioned by William F. Buckley, Jr., to write new interludes for Camille Saint-Saëns's Carnival of the Animals, to replace the original verse written by Ogden Nash. The premiere of the musical work took place in Stamford, Connecticut, with Mr. Buckley narrating.

Mr. von Dreele's college years were interrupted by World War II. Serving with the U.S. Army's 78th Infantry Division, he fought in the European theatre, participating in the Battle of the Bulge and Remagen crossing, among other campaigns, and rose to the rank of sergeant major. After the war Mr. von Dreele returned to complete his degree at Middlebury and went on to earn the Master of Arts degree from New York University.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE DIPLOMA

(English Translation)

Middlebury College
in the State of Vermont
To all students of letters
Eternal greeting in the Lord

Be it now known to you that the President of the College, with the approval of our honored and esteemed Fellows, has dignified and graced _____ with the title and rank of Bachelor of Liberal Arts, and has conferred on her/him all the privileges and honors pertaining thereto. Let the official seal of the College and the signature of the President bear witness to this act.

Issued at the College on the 25th of May, in the year of the Lord 1997, and in the 221st year of the American Republic.

ALMA MATER

Walls of ivy, paths of beauty,
We have known and loved them well.
Spir-ed chapel rising proudly,
Morning hymn and evening bell.

Middlebury, Alma Mater,
Symbol of His strength and truth,
Symbol of His strength and truth.

GAMALIEL PAINTER'S CANE

Gamaliel Painter's cane is one of the most treasured artifacts of the College. Once the walking stick of the founder of both the Town and the College, today, carried by the President in the academic procession, it serves as the College's mace and as a symbol of institutional strength and character. The President will present to members of the Class of 1997 a replica of the original cane, reminding the graduates that they go forward from Middlebury with the strength and character of the College always at their side.

THE MEDALLION

The medallion was first presented to President Samuel S. Stratton by the Board of Trustees upon his inauguration as the eleventh president of Middlebury College in 1943. The medallion has since been passed on from president to president as a symbol of office and is worn on all ceremonial occasions.

FLAGS

Special appreciation is given to the International Students Organization for assistance in properly displaying flags of each graduate's country.

Academic Costume

The academic costume, which originated at Oxford and Cambridge universities in England in the 1300s, has been in use in the United States since colonial days, although not until the 1890s was there a decided movement toward greater use of the academic costume by senior classes, trustees, and faculties. In 1895, representatives of American schools codified standards for academic dress with the establishment of the Intercollegiate Dress Code.

The Gown: The flowing gown comes from the twelfth century. While it originally may have been worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings, today it has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress of rank or social standing. Traditionally it is black for all degrees.

The bachelor's gown is relatively simple, with long, pleated front panels, and intricate shirring across the shoulders and back. The gown is worn closed and is distinguished by its long, pointed sleeves.

The master's gown has the same yoke effect but is designed to be worn open. It has a very long sleeve, oblong in shape with an arc cut out of the bottom of the front. The oblong is closed at the base and the forearm protrudes through a notched slit at the elbow.

Gowns for the doctor's degree are also designed to be worn open, but carry five-inch-wide velvet panels, which extend all the way to the bottom of the garment. Three horizontal velvet bars are stitched on the upper arm of the full, round, bell-shaped sleeves. This velvet trimming may be either black or the color distinctive of the faculty to which the degree refers. In recent years a number of universities have adopted alternative robes using their traditional school colors, such as crimson for Harvard, blue for Yale, maroon for Chicago.

The Cap: When Roman law freed the slave, he won the privilege of wearing a cap. The academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book. The cap worn almost universally in academic processions is the Oxford cap, better known as the mortarboard. The tassel may either be black or reflect the scholarly subject, although only doctor's degree recipients may have gold thread. A different style cap, the Cambridge cap, resembles a large beret.

The Hood: The hood is the most distinguishing feature of all academic costumes. Originally, it seems to have had three uses: as a hood covering; as a shoulder cape; or, when hung from the shoulder, as a bag in which alms could be collected.

The size and shape of the American hood mark the college degree of the wearer. The hood's outside is bordered with velvet of the proper width to indicate the degree and the proper color to indicate the department or field of study. Thus, a degree conferred as Bachelor of Arts requires the white of arts, letters, and humanities, whereas the Bachelor of Science degree requires the yellow of science.

The shapes of the bachelor's hood and the master's hood are similar, the former being three feet in overall length and the latter three and one-half feet. The doctor's hood has a base which is rounder and has an overall length of four feet. The respective widths of the velvet borders are two inches for the bachelor's, three inches for the master's, and five inches for the doctor's hood. The covered lining on the inside of the hood is the official color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. Where there is more than one color, the second color is usually represented by a chevron, a wide stripe across the background color, or field. Thus, the inside of the Middlebury hood has a blue background with a white chevron.

Members of the governing board of the degree-conferring institution normally wear the doctor's gown, but their hoods represent only such degrees as are actually held.
